recorded in the commercial register maintained by the Local Court of Munich under HRB 258354, represented by Madeleine Scholl, VAT ID No.: DE 335066921 <https://cardeleine.com/en/legal/imprint>

- hereinafter, the “Supplier”, “we” or “us” - and

-the user described in Section 2 (2) of the General Terms and Conditions of Use

- hereinafter, the “User” or “you” -

Section 1: Scope, definitions

(1) The following General Terms and Conditions of Use apply exclusively to the business relationship between us and the User. We do not acknowledge deviating or conflicting terms and conditions unless we have expressly approved them.

(2) Our offer is directed at both consumers and companies. Pursuant to section 13 of the German Civil Code (BGB), the User is a consumer if the purpose of the ordered services cannot be primarily attributed to his or her trade, business or profession. By contrast, pursuant to section 14 BGB, an entrepreneur means any natural or legal person or partnership with legal personality who or which, when concluding the contract, acts in exercise of his or her or its trade, business or profession. The arrangements in these General Terms and Conditions of Use apply both to consumers and to companies, other than where individual arrangements provide for applicability only to consumers or to entrepreneurs.

(3) If the User is an entrepreneur within the meaning of section 14 BGB, the annex to these General Terms and Conditions of Use entitled “Data Processing Contract” is applicable and becomes an integral component when the contract is concluded.

(4) We are entitled, and we reserve the ability, to amend these General Terms and Conditions of Use at any time, including with effect during the existing contractual relationship, under the following conditions:

- We may subsequently modify services that were ordered over the platform or deviate from them if you can reasonably be expected to accept the agreement on the change or deviation, taking into consideration our interests as Supplier. In this regard, acceptable means only those changes or deviations that do not modify the overall character of the services and become necessary because of circumstances that arise after conclusion of contract (e.g. amendments to laws or changed market conditions).

- We may make other amendments that do not relate to any services of the platform without regard to the condition of acceptability.

You will be notified in writing or by email of any amendments to these General Terms and Conditions of Use that have an impact on the contractual relationship. If you do not object to an amendment within four weeks of receipt of the notification and continue to use the services after expiry of the period for objection, the amendments are deemed approved by you. In the event of an amendment of the general business terms and conditions, you will be separately informed of the right to object and the legal consequences of failing to do so. In the case of rejection, we are entitled to terminate your contract at the time the amendment becomes effective and suspend your user account.

(5) In the case of changes to value-added tax, we are entitled to modify prices in accordance with this change without the foregoing right to objection being available.

Section 2: Registration as user

(1) Use of the services available on our platform <https://www.cardeleine.com> (hereinafter, the "Platform") require that you first register as a user. There is no charge for registering on our Platform. There is no entitlement to registration to our Platform. Only persons who have full capacity to contract are entitled to register. You must fully and truthfully provide the data necessary for registration. In the event that the data you provided should change, you are obligated to correct the entries without delay. If you provide inaccurate data when registering or fail to make a later correction, we reserve the ability to suspend your user account.

(2) Apart from the declaration of your agreement with the applicability of these General Terms and Conditions of Use, your registration is not associated with any obligations whatsoever. You may delete your entry at any time under "My account". Simply by registering with us does not create any obligation whatsoever to purchase the offered services. With registration, we will at our discretion make free features available to you under "My account", whereby we reserve the ability to modify or remove these at any time. In this regard, we will pay consideration to your legitimate interests. If, within 120 days following your registration, we determine that there has been no activity whatsoever in your account, we reserve the ability to delete your account and thus your registration.

(3) In the case of registration as a company within the meaning of section 14 BGB, the following also applies: At our request, you must send us a copy of your personal identity card, provide us with your VAT ID No., and document your recording in the commercial register. If the company is a legal person, the registration must be made by a natural person with full capacity to contract and representational authority, who is to be named. For the purposes of registration, you electronically complete the registration form available on our website and store it under your user account.

(4) After you enter all requested data, they will be reviewed by us for completeness and plausibility. If in our view the data are correct, and if in our view there are no other concerns, we will activate the access you requested and notify you of this by email. The email is considered to be acceptance of your registration application. Following receipt of the email, you are entitled to use the Platform within the scope of these General Terms and Conditions of Use. In this regard, you must first confirm your activation by clicking on the link contained in the email.

(5) Users who are companies within the meaning of section 14 BGB have the ability to have separate accounts set up for their employees. This ability is possible following contract conclusion pursuant to the ordered number of users. See Section 9 of the General Terms and Conditions of Use.

Section 3: Responsibility for access credentials, data security, system requirements

(1) When registering, you select a personal user name and a password. The user name must not infringe third-party rights or other rights to names or trademarks or be contra bonos mores. You are obligated to keep the password secret and in no event to disclose it to third parties.

(2) You are also responsible for ensuring that your access and use of the services provided on the Platform takes place solely by you or by persons authorised by you. As an entrepreneur, you must place a corresponding obligation on your employees who have their own account with us. You must immediately notify us if there are concerns that unauthorised third parties have gained or will gain knowledge of your access credentials. You are liable in accordance with statutory provisions for any use and/or other activity that takes place under your access credentials.

(3) If your personal details change, you are personally responsible for updating them (see also Section 2 of these General Terms and Conditions of Use). After registration, all changes can be made online under "My account".

(4) You are solely responsible for properly and regularly backing up your data.

(5) You must satisfy the system requirements specified in the product description in order to use the Platform and the services and products offered on it. You are personally responsible for this. Please find out in advance about whether your systems and devices support the technologies used in our services and products (e.g. QR technology).

Section 4: Services on the Platform

We make the following services and products available to you on our Platform. This may be, inter alia, the creation of digital business cards, as well the making available of data, photo documentation, and information (hereinafter, "Content"). You have the ability to make Content that you have uploaded available to other users and to obtain Content that has been uploaded and made available by other users (hereinafter, "Third-Party Content") at their behest. For the features and scope of the services and products, please refer to the corresponding descriptions on our website. In addition, we offer you supporting services and features in some cases, such as a ticket system or a feedback feature. The provision and scope of these supporting services and features lies in our discretion.

Section 5: Contract conclusion

(1) The depiction of the services on our Platform does not constitute a legally binding offer but rather an invitation to place an order (invitatio ad offerendum).

(2) By clicking on the button "Order with an obligation to pay" in the last step of the ordering process, you submit a binding offer to order the services listed in the order overview for a charge. Immediately after sending the order, you will receive an order confirmation, which however does not yet constitute acceptance of your offer of contract. A contract between you and us comes into effect once we accept your booking by separate email (hereinafter, "Contract Conclusion"). Please regularly check the spam folder in your email account.

(3) On our portal, you can select services for booking for a charge by placing them in a shopping cart by clicking on the corresponding button. If you want to complete the order, go to the shopping cart, where you will be guided through the rest of the ordering process. After selecting the products in the shopping cart and entering all required order data in the following step, a page will open after clicking on the "Continue" button on which the main product information is once again summarised, including incurred costs. Prior to sending the order, you can modify and view the data at any time and decline to make the contract declaration. The offer can be submitted and transmitted only if you accept these contract terms and conditions by clicking on the button "Accept General Terms and Conditions of Use" and include them in your offer. A binding offer within the meaning of subsection (2), above, is first submitted by then clicking on the button "Order with an obligation to pay".

(4) For the main aspects of the services offered by us and the duration of the validity of limited-term offers, please see the individual products descriptions on our website.

(5) The language made available for conclusion of contract is exclusively German. Any translations into other languages are provided merely for informational purposes. In the case of conflicts between the German text and the translation, the German takes has priority.

Section 6: Notice concerning corrections

As part of the ordering process, you first place the desired services in the shopping cart. There, you can change the desired contract term at any time or remove the selected services entirely. If you have placed services in the shopping cart, then by clicking on the "Continue" buttons, you will first reach a page on which you enter your data. Finally, an overview page will open on which you can review your information. You can correct your entry fields (e.g. with respect to dates or the desired contract term) by clicking on the field "Edit". If you would like to cancel the ordering process entirely, you can simply close your browser window. Otherwise, by clicking on the confirmation button "Order with an obligation to pay", your declaration becomes binding within the meaning of Section 5 (2) of these General Terms and Conditions of Use.

Section 7: Storage of the contract text

The contract terms and conditions with information about the ordered services, including these General Terms and Conditions of Use and the cancellation policy (which is applicable only if you are a consumer pursuant to section 13 BGB), will be sent to you by email upon acceptance of the contract offer or upon notification hereof. The contract text is stored in adherence with data protection.

Section 8: Payment terms, prices

(1) The prices for the monthly and annual subscription can be viewed on our website, whereby payment is made monthly or for a year in advance, as the case may be.

(2) The fee for the contractually agreed service is immediate due with the order. If the due date for payment is determined by the calendar, then you are in default if you miss the date. In such case, you must pay us default interest for the year in the statutory amount. The obligation to pay default interest does not exclude the assertion by us of other damages from default.

(3) The services are paid for exclusively by credit card (we use the transmission method "SSL" for encryption of your personal data). You can first use the contractually agreed services after payment. The fee for the contractually agreed services will be charged to your credit card entered prior to use of the service. You can view the invoice for the service used under "My Account" in the section "Invoices".

(4) We reserve the right to change the billing models and the payment methods with prospective effect.

(5) To the extent provided for in the product description on the Platform, we grant you on a voluntary basis a free trial phase for certain services. The trial phase starts with the receipt of the order confirmation and ends as follows:

- if as User you are a consumer within the meaning of section 13 BGB, the trial phase automatically ends after the period granted in the product description without the need for a further declaration on our part; this does not affect your right of cancellation pursuant to Section 16 of the General Terms and Conditions of Use.
- if as User you are an entrepreneur within the meaning of section 14 BGB, the trial phase ends after the period granted in the product description and converts automatically to the contract term, unless you cancel your order during the trial phase. The cancellation period is satisfied by sending the cancellation by email to hi@cardeleine.com in a timely manner prior to the end of the trial phase. The general right of cancellation for consumers pursuant to section 16 of the General Terms and Conditions of Use is not available to you.

Section 9: Creation of additional user accounts

Users who are companies within the meaning of section 14 BGB have the ability to have separate accounts set up for their employees. The number of user accounts is determined by the number of users ordered and paid for in the contract. After Contract Conclusion, the company can apply with us to set up corresponding user accounts for its employees. Following a successful review pursuant Section 2 (4), we will activate the access for your employees that you applied for and notify them of this by email. Following receipt of the email, your employee is entitled to use the portal within the scope of these General Terms and Conditions of Use. In this regard, your employee must first confirm the activation by clicking on the link contained in the email.

Section 10: Rights of use

(1) The Platform, as well as the services covered by it and the features provided by us (e.g. tools for creating digital business cards), are comprehensively protected by copyright.

(2) You will receive for the term of the contract a non-exclusive, non-sublicenseable, non-transferable, and revocable right to use the Platform and the services and features covered by it exclusively for the purposes agreed upon in these General Terms and Conditions of Use and in conformity with these General Terms and Conditions of Use and applicable law.

In particular, you may not copy, edit, revise, modify, reverse-engineer, or transform the Platform and the services and features made available on it, other than where permitted by mandatory law.

(3) By uploading your Content (e.g. names, company logo, photos, design, etc.), you acknowledge and approve that we may store and process this Content pursuant to our Data Protection Policy (<https://cardeleine.com/en/legal/privacy>) or, in the event that you as User are an entrepreneur within the meaning of section 14 BGTB, pursuant to the arrangements specified in the annex "Data Processing".

(4) For the purpose of providing our services, you grant us a gratuitous, non-exclusive, non-sublicenseable, non-transferable, territorially unlimited right to use uploaded Content, particularly in order to distribute Content over our infrastructure and at our behest to other users, as well as to store, process, and reproduce Content, provided that this is necessary for providing the services. The grant of right is limited in terms of time to the duration of the concluded contract and in terms of substance to the performance of the concluded contract.

(5) You are aware and acknowledge that Third-Party Content uploaded and made available by other users may likewise be protected by copyrights, trademark rights, or other intellectual property rights and may be the property of the respective user who provided Third-Party Content.

Section 11: Responsibility of the User for uploaded Content

(1) You as User are fully responsible for Content you enter. We do not perform a view of Content for accuracy, completeness, lawfulness, quality, or suitability for a specific purposes or for whether it is up to date. The same also applies to Third-Party Content. We do not perform a review of Third-Party Content for accuracy, completeness, or lawfulness and therefore do not assume any responsibility or liability whatsoever for the accuracy, completeness, or lawfulness of Third-Party Content or for whether it is up to date. This also applies with respect to the quality of Third-Party Content and suitability for a specific purpose, including to the extent that Third-Party Content on, e.g., linked-to outside websites is involved.

(2) You declare and warrant to us that you are the sole owner of all rights in and to Content uploaded by you on the Platform or are otherwise authorised (e.g. through an effective permission of the rights holder) to upload Content through your user account and to grant rights of use and exploitation pursuant to Section 10 (4). You must indemnify us on first demand against all claims and costs that arise out of or in connection with an infringement of third-party rights by you or by a person authorised by you, a statutory representative, or one of your employees or persons you use to perform an obligation (Erfüllungsgehilfen). More extensive claims by us remain unaffected.

Section 12: Prohibited activities

(1) As User, you are obligated in connection with use of the Platform and the services and features made available to observe applicable laws and all third-party rights. You are prohibited from undertaking any activities on or in connection with the Platform that violate applicable law, infringe third-party rights (including those of other users), or are in breach of the principles of protection of young persons. In particular, but not exclusively, you are prohibited from taking the following actions:

- entering, disseminating, offering, or promoting Content, services, and/or products that are in contravention of youth protection statutes, data protection law, criminal law, copyright, trademark and labelling law, or the provisions for the protection of the right of personality and industrial property rights and/or are in violation of other law and/or are fraudulent;
- entering, disseminating, offering, or promoting Content, services, and/or products that are libellous, slanderous, anti-constitutional, racist, sexist, or pornographic;
- using, providing, or disseminating Content, services, and/or products that are protected by statute or are encumbered with third-party rights (e.g. copyrights, trademarks) without being expressly authorised to do so.

(2) In addition, irrespective of any statutory violation in uploading your own Content on the Platform, you are prohibited from undertaking the following activities:

- spreading viruses, Trojan horses, or other malware;
- sending junk or spam email or chain letters;
- disseminating lewd, indecent, sexually explicit, obscene, or defamatory Content or communication or such Content or communication that is designed to promote or support racism, fanaticism, hate, physical violence, or unlawful actions (either explicitly or implicitly);
- disseminating and/or public reproducing services and features available on the Platform or Third-Party Content unless this is expressly made available to you as a functionality on the platform or you are permitted to do so by the other users or rights holder.

(3) Also prohibited is any action that is intended to or is capable of interfering with the smooth operation of the Platform, particularly interfering with the security or availability of the Platform, making it non-functional or preventing, impeding, or delaying its use, or putting an excessive burden on the systems.

(4) If you become aware of use that is illegal, abusive, in breach of contract, or otherwise unauthorised, please contact Blue Performance GmbH, Brienner Street, 80333 Munich. We will then review the event and take the appropriate steps where necessary.

(5) In the event of suspicion of unlawful or criminal actions, we are entitled and, in some cases, obligated to review your activities and take the suitable legal steps, where necessary. This may also include forwarding the matter to the public prosecutor's office.

Section 13: Suspension of user accounts

(1) We may temporarily or permanently suspend your user account and thus your access to the Platform if there are specific indications that you are or have been in breach of these General Terms and Conditions of Use and/or in violation applicable law or if we have some other legitimate interest in suspension. In making the decision about a suspension, we will appropriately take your legitimate interests into consideration.

(2) In the case of a temporary or permanent suspension, we will suspend your access authorisation and notify you of this by email.

(3) In the case of a temporary suspension, we will reactivate your user account and access authorisation after expiry of the suspension period and notify you of this by email. A permanently suspended access authorisation cannot be restored. Permanently suspended persons are permanently excluded from use of the Platform and may not re-register on the Platform.

Section 14: Term, termination, end of use

(1) The minimum term of the contract amounts to one month or one year, unless a different minimum term is expressly set forth in the product description. The term begins upon Contract Conclusion and, in the event that a trial phase was granted, upon expiry of the trial period.

(2) In the case of a one-month term, the contract may be terminated with 10 days' notice or, in the case of a one-year contract, with four weeks' notice, effective at the end of the respective term. Without termination, the contract automatically renews for a further month or a further year, unless a different term is expressly set forth in the product description.

(3) The foregoing does not affect the right of the contracting parties to terminate without notice. In particular, in the event of price increases of more than 10%, you are entitled to terminate without notice.

(4) Terminations are to be directed to: hi@cardeleine.com

(5) When the termination becomes effective, the use relationship ends, and you may no longer use your account. We reserve the ability to suspend the user name and the password when the termination becomes effective.

(6) Once 30 calendar days have elapsed since the termination became effective, and once any statutory retention periods have expired, we are entitled to irretrievably delete all Content and data deposited and stored in your account.

Section 15: Limitation of liability

(1) We are liable for wilful misconduct and gross negligence. In addition, we are liable for the negligent breach of duties whose fulfilment is essential for proper performance of the contract, whose breach jeopardises the achievement of the contract purpose, and on whose compliance you as User normally may rely. In the latter case, however, we are liable only for foreseeable damage that is typical of the contract. We are not liable for the breach of duties other than those specified in the foregoing sentences that is occasioned by simple negligence.

(2) The foregoing exclusions of liability do not apply in the case of loss of life, physical injury, or damage to health. Liability under the German Product Liability Act (Produkthaftungsgesetz) remains unaffected.

(3) In accordance with the current state of technology, the communication of data over the internet cannot be guaranteed to be free of error and/or available at all times. Accordingly, we are not liable for the error-free, constant, and uninterrupted availability of our services. You cannot derive any claims against us from an interruption of availability.

(4) Our strict liability for compensation of damages pursuant to section 536a (1) sentence 1, alternative 1 BGB is excluded for defects that exist at the time of Contract Conclusion.

(5) For any services made available by us on the Platform at no charge, we are liable only to the extent that the User's damage occurred as a result of contractually consistent use of the free services and only in the case of wilful misconduct (including fraud) or gross negligence.

(6) If your damages result from the loss of data, we are not liable for this, to the extent that the damages would have been prevented by a regular and complete back-up of all relevant data by you. You are solely responsible for performing a regular and complete data back-up yourself or having it performed by a third party.

(7) You must indemnify us on first demand against all third-party claims, including claims for compensation of damages and liability claims, as well as reasonable costs, that are attributable to your culpable conduct (or that of your employees, representatives, or persons you use to perform an obligation). In particular, this includes, but is not limited to, claims against us based on prohibited activities within the meaning of Section 12 that were undertaken by you.

Section 16: Right of cancellation

The following right of cancellation applies only if you as User are a consumer within the meaning of section 13 BGB:

As a consumer, you have a right of cancellation in accordance with the policy set forth below.

As a consumer, i.e. a natural person who concludes a transaction for purposes that can be primarily attributed to his or her trade, business or profession, you have the right of cancellation for 14 days with regard to all services that we offer on the Platform for a charge.

Cancellation policy

Right of withdrawal:

You have the right to withdraw from this contract within 14 days without having to provide reasons. The withdrawal period amounts to 14 days, starting on the day of Contract Conclusion.

In order to exercise your right of withdrawal, you must inform us

Blue Performance GmbH, Brienner Street 45d, 80333 Munich, Germany

Telephone: +49 (89) 6931471 - 80

you can find additional contact data in the imprint (<https://cardeleine.com/en/legal/imprint>) by means on an unambiguous declaration (e.g. a letter sent by postal mail or an email) about your decision to withdraw from this contract.

To do so, you may use the attached model withdrawal form <https://cardeleine.com/en/legal/terms>, but this is not required.

[additionally: You can electronically complete and transmit the sample cancellation form or another unambiguous declaration on our website <https://cardeleine.com/en/legal/withdrawal>

If you make use of this ability, we will immediately send you a confirmation (e.g. by email) about receipt of such withdrawal.]

The withdrawal period is complied with if you send the notice about the exercise of the right of withdrawal prior to expiry of the withdrawal period.

Consequences of withdrawal

If you withdraw from this contract, we must reimburse you for all payments that we have received from you under this contract, including delivery costs (with the exception of additional costs that are a result of the fact that you chose a type of delivery different from the least expensive standard delivery offered by us), without delay and not later than 14 days from the date on which we received the notice of your withdrawal from this contract. In making this reimbursement, we will use the same form of payment that you used for the original transaction, unless something else was expressly agreed upon with you. In no event will you be charged any fees for this reimbursement.

If you requested that the services are to begin during the withdrawal period, then for services provided for a charge, you must pay us an appropriate amount that corresponds to the proportion of services that were provided for a charge up to the time at which you notified us about the exercise of the right of withdrawal with respect to this contract compared with the total scope of the services envisaged in the contract.

In the case of a contract for the delivery of digital Content not contained on a physical data storage device, the right of withdrawal also expires when the operator has started to perform the contract after you expressly approved that the operator is to start to perform the contract prior to expiry of the withdrawal period and you confirmed your awareness that you lose your right of withdrawal with the start of contract performance.

Exclusion of the right of withdrawal

There is no right of withdrawal if at the time of conclusion of the transaction, you are acting primarily in exercise of your trade, business or profession and you are therefore to be considered an entrepreneur (section 14 BGB).

Other important notices

You expressly approve that we are to start performance of the service prior to the end of the withdrawal period.

Section 17: Final provisions

(1) The law of the Federal Republic of Germany is applicable to contracts concluded between us and User, under exclusion of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. The foregoing does not affect the statutory provisions concerning the limitation of the choice of law and concerning the applicability of mandatory provisions, particularly of the country in which the User as consumer has his or her habitual place of residence.

(2) If the User is a merchant, a legal person under public law, or a special fund under public law, the place of jurisdiction for all disputes under contractual relationships between the customer and the supplier is the registered office of the supplier.

(3) We make you aware that in addition to recourse to the ordinary courts of law, you also have the ability to obtain an out-of-court resolution of disputes pursuant to Regulation (EU) No. 524/2013. You can find details about this in Regulation (EU) No. 524/2013 and at: <http://ec.europa.eu/consumers/odr>. Our email address is: hi@cardeleine.com. Pursuant to section 36 of the German Act on Alternative Dispute Resolution in Consumer Matters (VSBG), we point out that we are obliged to take part in dispute resolution procedures before a consumer conciliation body.

(4) Even where individual clauses are legally ineffective, the contract remains binding in its other parts. Where they exist, statutory provisions take the place of the ineffective clauses. However, if this would pose an unreasonable hardship for a contracting party, the contract becomes ineffective in its entirety.
